

Organize special events for AAG!

The Annual meeting of the Association of American Geographers (AAG) will be held in Washington, DC during April 14-18, 2010. With the meeting taking place in our own backyard, we have an excellent opportunity to come together as a department and showcase our top-notch academic and research activities. Here are some ideas for what you can do to get involved:

Please note that many deadlines have been moved to November 1st, 2009 or later

1) Organize special events

- Organize a field trip and educate others about life in Washington DC. Examples include: National Arboretum, local neighborhoods, city halls. Etc.

You think of the idea, and AAG can help you plan and organize the logistics:

<http://aag.org/annualmeetings/2010/workshop-planning.htm>

- Organize a special session: <http://www.aag.org/annualmeetings/2010/session.htm>.

- Organize a workshop: <http://www.aag.org/annualmeetings/2010/workshop-planning.htm>

- Submit an article: <http://www.aag.org/annualmeetings/2010/gazetteer.htm>

- Organize various events: <http://www.aag.org/annualmeetings/2010/events.htm>

- Organize a movie screening: <http://www.aag.org/annualmeetings/2010/films.htm>

2) Present your research at AAG –

-The deadline for submitting abstracts for posters, papers, and presentations is October 28th.

<http://www.aag.org/annualmeetings/2010/papers.htm>

3) Sign up to be a volunteer for the event-

-There will be plenty of activities to volunteer for in April. Please contact me for more details.

Please be sure to send me any information regarding activities you will be leading.

Thank you for your time,

Lidia L Lopez
Outreach Graduate Assistant
LLopez07@umd.edu
2120 Lefrak Hall
College Park, MD 20742
301-405-8598